Presidents Day Weekend Programming and Resources

February 12 – 15, 2021, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m.

WHAT: During Presidents Day Weekend, the National Constitution Center will use its popular Presidential Portrait Gallery as an informational headquarters where visitors can learn about Article II of the Constitution. Visitors will explore the ins and outs of the Electoral College, delve into the duties and requirements of the executive office, and take part in presidential role-play scenarios and trivia game challenges. This is a non-contact experience located in the Center’s Grand Hall Lobby, which allows ample space for social distancing.

Plus, visitors can view the Center’s exhibits, including Signers’ Hall, which features life-sized statues of presidents Washington and Madison; Civil War and Reconstruction: The Battle for Freedom and Equality; and the Center’s newest exhibit The 19th Amendment: How Women Won the Vote, which explores how the right to participate in elections has expanded and become more inclusive throughout history.

Reopening on Friday, February 12, the National Constitution Center will resume operations on a modified schedule, and will be open Fridays through Sundays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., in addition to being open Presidents Day, Monday, February 15.

In addition to special on-site programming, the National Constitution Center has various online educational resources for students, teachers, and lifelong learners—including presidential trivia videos, Scholar Exchange programs, and more. A full list of programming and resources can be found here.

Thanks to TD Bank for sponsoring African American History Month and Presidents Day and helping make possible free online programming in February.
